FOSTER WRITES COMIC HISTORY OF STATE

By Associated Press

"Foster's Comic History of Oklahoma," appears on the newsstands. A half dollar acquires it. The author is C. D. Foster, a former business college real estate, loan and insurance man of Guthrie. Foster now lives in Oklahoma City. The "history" contains 150 pages with an appendix. It is seriously embellished with cuts, caricatures and cartoons and touches everything historical in the state from Bill Murray's night gown to Washington Irving's "1832 tent" or to Pancho Villa, who hasn't anything to do with Oklahoma. The volume is written in Wine of Cardui vein, with a sector of vers libre. Some of the points are well taken, while some must be taken in the arm. All in all it is an amusing little book and ours Foster in a class many points higher than the "Arkansas Novelists." As history it will serve in those schools when the history classes are inclined to "play hooky."

Arrow shows the Deutschland.

In deadly fear that some one will attack in Baltimore harbor so it is almost impossible for the pilot to get a glimpse of her. She is alongside a pier and is hidden on the opposite side by a house. At one end is the high wall of a warehouse, and at the other is a tug. Strung along the warehouse and the pier is barbed wire. Extending out from the chock is a boom and from this boom were cables dropped to the bottom so that the only possible approach to the vessel is from directly above.

WAR DEPARTMENT SAYS TIN GOODS IS WHOLESOME

WAR SECRETARY REFUTES CHARGES THAT SOLDIERS HAVE BEEN NEGLECTED

Washington, D. C., July 20.—That there is no truth in the report that tainted canned meat has been issued to border troops is the statement made today by Secretary of War Baker.

The war department issued a series of reports on the mobilization of the national guard for border duty, all designed to refute charges that the men have been improperly rationed and not given the best facilities available in their trip south—Secretary Baker is preparing a report to Congress on the subject in response to a resolution adopted a few days ago.

To show the present conditions in border camps Major General Tasker Bliss, assistant chief of staff, now is inspecting the entire border forces. His first report came by telegraph today from Glendale, Tex., and is as follows:

We Well Fed.

"Financed inspection of Illinois and Wisconsin troops at Fort Sam Houston will report today. Financed inspection of Virginia and Illinois troops at Brownsville. Will finish inspection of New York, Indiana, Minnesota and Texas troops between Minot and San Antonio. In short, we are well fed and prepared upon arrival."

Have found camps in excellent sanitary conditions. Men are reasonably well sheltered and well fed. Have in touch with regimental and company commanders and taken down their names by stragglers. Thus far we are unanimous in expressing satisfaction and contentment of officers and enlisted men. Inspections imminent are being made up as rapidly as possible. General Funston and his staff deserve great credit for efficient handling of difficult problem."

During the inspection two hundred ministers and their families from all

THE RAIN CAME IN TORRENTS; CORN SAVED

STATE, GENERALLY, ENJOYED DRENCHING LAST NIGHT; MORE PROMISED TONIGHT

The corn crop is safe. The rain Wednesday night was general throughout the state, east, west, north and south. It came just as the corn was beginning to "fire" and means a saving to the farmers of the state of at least $5,000,000.

The rain reached Guthrie following a heavy wind storm that had many of the rear-marks of a cyclone. The wind cloud, however, was high in the sky and passed to the south at a very rapid rate. One inch of rain fell in Logan county. More is promised for tonight.

The two subcommittees will discuss the campaign now under way throughout the state to get out a full Republican vote of Aug. 1. According to the state chairman, many Democrats are opposed to the literacy test amendment and there is a good chance to defeat it if the Republicans will turn out to vote. Usually there is a very high Republican vote on primary day.

Both officers and soldiers made their way from Jimenez here on foot, bearing their gruesome relics with them. They made a full report to General Trevino, Carranza commander in Chihuahua.

Mr. Geister also announced that there would be a meeting of the state committee some time in August. He says that he had thought of holding a fall committee meeting at this time but that a very large majority of the state committee had indicated that they preferred to have all present work appointed to be subcommittees and be appointed by the state chairman.
